THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia:

The Directors of the Girard College respectfully present to Councils their exhibiting the present condition of that institution, and its progress during the past year.

The blessings of health, peace, and contentment have been vouchsafed to the institution in a remarkable degree since the last Annual Report. No accidents of a serious nature to life or limb have occurred among the orphans committed to its care, and but one case of sickness has terminated fatally. This renewed manifestation of Divine care should be the cause of earnest gratitude to the Supreme Power which has thus so signally protected the college and its inmates.

The number of orphans who were receiving instruction and maintenance in the institution at the date of the last Report was three hundred and forty-eight. Fifty-four have been admitted since that time; thirty-three have been bound out; the indentures of three have been canceled by request of friends; four have been dismissed; and one has died.

The number now in the college is three hundred and sixty-one. Of these, thirty-seven are receiving instruction in the first form; sixty-four in the second; sixty-one in the third; sixty-five in the fourth; sixty-seven in the Fifth; and sixty-seven in the sixth.

A material alteration, which was deemed important to the interests of the institution, has been made during the past year in the organization of the department of instruction. The division of the pupils into principal and primary schools, which has existed since the opening of the college, has been set aside. Under the new arrangement, the pupils are divided, according to their advancement in knowledge, into six Forms, numbered one, two, three, four, five, and six, from the lowest to the highest. Each form, when full, consists of four classes, each containing from fifteen to twenty pupils, and numbered one, two, three, and four, from the lowest to the highest. The course of study is so arranged, and the promotion from class to class and from form to form so made, that pupils of fair capacity beginning with the alphabet, in the first class of the first form, will be able to pass through all the forms and complete the course of study in eight years. The first form, which at present consists of only two classes, is under the instruction of Emily Brown, and occupies one of the school rooms in the building known as No. 5. The classes of the second form receive instruction from Annie L. Scott, and Rose Reilly, in the two north rooms in the second story of the main building. The classes of the third form receive instruction from Angeline C. Turner, and Keturah Cole, in the two middle rooms on the north side of the second story of the main building. The classes of the fourth form receive instruction from Jane Overn, and Susan M. Statzell, in the south-west, and south-west middle rooms of the second story of the main building. The classes of the fifth form occupy the south-east room of the second story of the main building, and receive instruction in the common English branches of study from Mary Lynch, who keeps the records and order of the room, and from the male teachers, in their respective recitation rooms, in Natural Science, Mathematics, Graphics, and Modern Languages. The classes of the sixth form occupy the north-east room of the first story of the main building, and receive instruction in the common English branches from George Stuart, who keeps the records and order of the room, and from the other male teachers in Natural Science, Mathematics, Graphics, and Modern Languages. All the classes of the fifth and sixth forms are examined monthly by the president, who also gives instruction to the fourth class of the sixth form in Moral Philosophy, History, Political Economy, and Constitutional Law.

This arrangement of the schools has increased the number of pupils who receive instruction from the male teachers, and gives to those who will be bound out before they reach the sixth form the opportunity to acquire some knowledge of the higher branches before they leave the college. The new system has now been in operation some months, and is working satisfactorily.

A complete list of the pupils is submitted herewith, those of each form being arranged alphabetically, with the dates of their birth, and admission to the college, and the numbers which indicate their relative grade both in scholarship and conduct. These numbers are made up with great care from the records of the entire year, and the distribution of premiums on the 31st day of December was in strict accordance therewith. All pupils whose school grade was above 7.50 received premiums for scholarship; and all whose merit roll exceeded 8.00 received premiums for good conduct. Those whose standing, either in conduct or scholarship, or in both, was higher than it was last year, received premiums for improvement; and those who, by diligent effort, had failed to raise their grade of scholarship above that of the preceding year, received premiums for attention to study. It is creditable, both to the pupils and their officers, that a greater number of premiums were earned and awarded during the year 1860 than during any previous year, and that under a system of distribution which insures a premium to every pupil who will make reasonable effort to obtain it, only ten failed. Fifty-six pupils received premiums for good conduct and scholarship; fifty-nine, for good conduct and improvement in scholarship; sixteen for good scholarship and improvement in conduct; thirty-five for improvement both in scholarship and conduct; fifty-nine for good conduct alone; forty-one for scholarship alone; eleven for improvement in conduct alone; thirty-nine for improvement in scholarship alone; and twenty-four for attention to study; making a total of three hundred and forty premiums.

Various repairs and improvements have been made during the year to the school furniture, which will add both to the comfort of the pupils and the efficiency of the instruction.

The department of the household presents but little change from the condition described in the last annual report. The most important alteration has been the construction of a Gymnasium, which has been fitted up in two of the second-story rooms of the building known as No. 5. One hundred and eighty of the larger pupils are regularly instructed in gymnastic exercises twice a week, or sixty each day, in classes of about thirty. Much interest is manifested by the pupils in this kind of recreation, and great benefit has already resulted from it. While the Gymnasium is a means of improving the health and developing the physical strength and activity of the boys, it has already become a salutary promoter of good order; for, as the exercises therein are taken during the hours of recreation, the pupils are more careful to avoid offences which will cause them to be detained in their section rooms during those hours. This is in accordance with the obvious principle that the more attractive the season of recreation is made, the higher the value which the young will place upon it.

Since the erection of the new infirmary, the pupils have had but one play-ground, and the intermingling of the large and small boys during hours of recreation in the open air, has become a source of much inconvenience. This has been recently remedied by an enlargement of the area devoted to play, and its division by a substantial fence into two parts. A part of the line of division is occupied by a new ball alley, forty feet long and twenty feet high, which has been erected for the use of the boys in both portions of the play-ground. A new fence has also been made to separate the play-ground from the pasture and stable, and another to separate it from the lawn in front of buildings Nos. 3 and 4. The clay loam has been removed from the surface of the new part of the play-ground, and replaced with gravel, twelve inches in depth. It is hoped that this improvement will make the ground fit for occupancy during the greater part of the year.

No changes have occurred in the corps of officers of the schools or household during the past year; and while all of them continue to discharge their duties with fidelity and zeal, every year of service adds to their experience, skill, and efficiency.

The usual annual statement of the expenditures of the college has been prepared by the Secretary, and will accompany this report. It has been the anxious effort of the Board, by a careful scrutiny, to conduct the institution as economically as possible, consistently with its character. It will be seen that the large sum of over six thousand dollars has been returned to the fund unexpended, from the appropriation made for the support of the college during 1860.

The Directors, in their annual estimate for 1861, have expressed a wish that a portion of the amount thus saved might be re-appropriated this year to enable them to add forty orphans to those now supported within the college, and thus increase the total to four hundred children. They do not hesitate to believe that this request will meet the cordial approbation of Councils.

In connection with this subject, the Directors cannot avoid renewing the hope earnestly expressed in past reports, that the condition of the estate might enable them at an early period to extend the benefits of the foundation to a much larger number than are now supported by it. Independent of the express instructions of Mr. Girard, that the advantages of his college should be given to as many as possible, and the strong sympathy which all must feel for the class for whom it is intended, there is the additional reason of substantial economy for this increase. The entire machinery for a complicated institution has to be provided, whether its inmates are three hundred or six hundred, and the latter number would not require a material increase in many important expenditures over that demanded for the former. Thus, up to a certain limit, every orphan added would diminish the present per capita cost of supporting and educating a child. The buildings, exclusive of those occupied by the president and professors, are capable of accommodating a larger number than the present family, and whenever the funds at the disposal of Councils will warrant, it will afford the Directors great pleasure to co-operate in making available to its fullest extent this magnificent bequest to the poor and the orphan.

The Board have for several years had their attention turned to the subject of providing within the walls some mechanical employment for the older and larger pupils, before they leave the institution. It will be seen how important to their future welfare it is that they should be accustomed, at least in some degree, to the use of tools and machinery, and to the habits which are needed in the workshop, before they go out to active participation in the affairs of the world, and how much more desirable they would be as apprentices, if this preliminary instruction could be had. The subject is attended with some practical difficulties, but the Board have asked this year for a small appropriation to make the experiment, and as a nucleus around which to build up the more thorough and complete system which experience may dictate. This matter is earnestly recommended to the favorable consideration of Councils.

It gives the Directors pleasure to state that a large number of those who have left the institution continue to discharge their duties satisfactorily to their masters and creditably to the college, as is evidenced by the letters which are appended to this report. In a short time, the young men who are each year leaving the college will become sufficiently numerous to be recognized and felt in this community. In all that elevates labor and goes to constitute the good and useful citizen, the Board confidently anticipate that this portion of its people will reflect credit upon the memory of the Founder and justify the great interest which Councils and the public have always exhibited in the Trust.

Appended to the report will be found a list of apprentices, with the dates of their birth, and the names, occupations, and places of residences of the masters. A list is also given of those who have concluded their apprenticeship.

The number of apprentices remaining upon the catalogue of those who have been placed out to learn a trade or occupation was, at the date of the last report, one hundred and sixty-six. Since that period, the term of apprenticeship of thirty-eight has expired, and two have died. During the year, thirty-three orphans have been indentured to various occupations, and the number of apprentices now registered, is one hundred and fifty-nine.

A review of the condition and progress of the college during the past year recalls to the Directors many incidents which are pleasing to memory, and many causes of encouragement and honest pride. No human institution is perfect, nor is any human agent free from liability to err. But even mistakes, when such are made, are not altogether harmful. They teach wisdom to those who are willing to learn, and prompt them to greater vigilance in the future. Men often learn the right way by taking the wrong, and experience gathers some of her richest treasures in the byways of error.

In the kindly and contented spirit which prevails among the orphans, in the preservation of order and sound discipline, and in the successful culture of their minds and morals, it is believed that Councils will find much to approve; while in the protection of the health and lives of the children, and in the multiplied blessings which have crowned the Institution and given success to its efforts, they will perceive abundant cause of gratitude to that Benificent Being who has promised to be a Father to the fatherless.

SAMUEL H. PERKINS,
President of the Board of Directors.

GIRARD COLLEGE, February 9, 1861.

LETTERS.

[From JOHN TONNER, Merchant, Bellefonte, Pa.]

Bellefonte, Jan. 14th, 1861.

HENRY W. AREY, Esq.,

DEAR SIR:—Your favor, making inquiries concerning the character and conduct of R. H. M. Steel, apprenticed to me in August, 1856, came duly to hand. I hasten to answer your interrogatories.

1. He is diligent in his application to his business, civil, faithful, and obedient, and has made excellent progress.

2. He has never deserted or been absent from my employment, without permission.

3. When not engaged in business, his hours are either spent in my own family, or with such society as I approve.

4. He has resided all the time in my family, conforms cheerfully to the regulations of my household, keeps good hours, attends public worship, is correct in his morals, cleanly in his person, orderly in his habits, and general behavior good.

Having thus confined myself strictly to your questions, I beg leave to add, that by all embraced in the foregoing he has greatly endeared himself to me. He has never given me an unkind look or word; always cheerful and ready to anticipate my wishes, and has my unlimited confidence. I am well satisfied that when his term expires, I cannot fill his place with another like him. He has the confidence and esteem of all our customers, and is a favorite among all who know him for his gentlemanly, kind, and accommodating disposition.

Very respectfully, &c,

JOHN TONNER.

[From CHAS. M. GHRISKY, Hardware Merchant, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, Jan. 7th, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—Your favor of 20th ult. is received. In answer to your request, I would state that Samuel H. Edgar, whom I have taken as an apprentice, has diligently and faithfully applied himself to the duties of my business, and has been found fully capable of doing any part that he has been called on to perform. He has not been absent, without my consent, excepting a few days of sickness. His hours of leisure, as far as I have learned, have been well spent with proper companions. Residing with his mother, an estimable lady, I can say that he is correct in his morals, cleanly and orderly in his habits, and his general behavior is such as I fully approve of.

In conclusion, I would say, that if Samuel is a specimen of the pupils sent forth, the public may well be proud of such an Institution as the Girard College with its present officers.

Yours truly,

CHAS. M. GHRISKY.

[From W. STRUTHERS, Marble Mason, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, Jan. 5th, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to your favor of the 20th ult., I beg leave to inform you that Henry E. Wrigley is all I would ask or expect; he, in everything, is dutiful and obedient, faithful and civil, and has improved beyond my expectation.

His time, when absent from my employ, to the best of my knowledge, is spent with his own family, with whom he resides; and his associates I believe to be suitable in every way, and his religious duties I believe faithfully performed.

Very truly yours,

WM. STRUTHERS.

[From J. W. TORREY, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, Dec. 31st, 1860.

SIR:—Your inquiry came to hand to-day. In response, I gladly bear testimony to the ability and assiduity with which James H. Windrim has prosecuted his labors and studies, as an architect's apprentice. As a draughtsman, in delineating or coloring, he has few superiors—Mr. Becker, his old teacher, being the judge; while in practical details of carpentry he has won the approval of the practical carpenters and builders with whom he is in daily intercourse. At no distant day the College will be proud to claim him as one of her sons.

In the family he conducts himself to my entire satisfaction, exercising a discretion and propriety in all his behavior becoming a young Christian.

Need I say more?

Truly yours,

J. W. TORREY.

[From CHAS. HARMAN, Book Publisher, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, Dec. 31*st*, 1860.

DEAR SIR:—Your favor of the 20th was handed me on Saturday last, and in answer to your queries about Wm. McConnell, who was indentured to me, I can cheerfully say "Yes" to all your inquiries. He is very diligent to his business, civil, obliging, and polite, and has the esteem of all who know him. He is a member of the Methodist Church, and constant in attending both Sunday School and Church.

He resides with his mother and sister, and is always at home when not at business. I do not think a better lad has ever left your Institution. Hoping my answer will prove satisfactory, I remain,

Yours truly,

CHAS. HARMAN.

[From JOHN A. WRIGHT, Manuf. of Iron, Lewistown, Pa.]

Freedom Iron Company,
Lewistown, Mifflin Co., Jan. 1*st*, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—I have the pleasure again to return favorable answers to your queries as to W. W. Wallace.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN A. WRIGHT.

[From S. W. THACKARA, Esq., Conveyancer, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, January 16, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In answer to the inquiries contained in the circular from the Directors of the Girard College, it affords me pleasure to say in reference to William C. Stone, that during the past year his general deportment has been satisfactory to me, and creditable to himself. He has not absented himself from my employment without permission.

As he resides with his sisters, I am unable of my own knowledge to state how his leisure hours are spent, or who are his associates.

I am yours, respectfully,

S. W. THACKARA,
244 South Third street.

[From JNO. L. O'NEAL, Wholesale Druggist, Philadelphia.]

DEAR SIR:—Your favor of the 20th ult. came promptly to hand. It gives me pleasure to state that the lad indentured to me by the Trustees of the Girard College, (E. H. McKee,) conforms with the rules and regulations of our business house. He applies himself with diligence to his occupation, and has made satisfactory progress. He has never been absent (within my knowledge) without permission from me, except from occasional slight indisposition. He attends public worship regularly on Sabbath, and is a member of St. Paul's Bible Class. He informs me that his leisure hours are spent with his mother, or at home studying. His associates are few, and I am inclined to think they are moral youths. Not residing in my family, I cannot state with certainty his manner of behavior at his boarding-house, but his uniform politeness at the store leads me to infer that his conduct is such as it ought to be.

Yours,

JNO. L. O'NEAL.

[From W. C. MURPHY, Painter, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, January 2, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In answer to your letter of inquiry of December 20th, 1860, I would say that the lad, John Bowen, apprenticed to me from the Institute, does continue to give satisfaction in all the particulars inquired after.

Respectfully yours,

WM. C. MURPHY,
48 South Third street.

[From JNO. MURRAY, Farmer, Washington County.]

January 14, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—Yours of December 20th came to hand by due course of mail, to which I now reply. In regard to Daniel Bussinger, he applies himself very well, is civil, faithful, and obedient, and he is making pretty good progress. He is learning the use of tools; he has never deserted or been absent; his hours when not employed are mostly spent by the fire reading or singing. His companions are good; he resides with us, submits to discipline, keeps good hours, attends public worship, is correct in his morals, orderly in his habits, and his general behavior is good as I would expect. I think the boys ought to have something to do to learn the use of tools.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN MURRAY.

[From SOLOMON GANS, Clothing Merchant, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, December 31, 1860.

DEAR SIR:—In conformity with request of Directors of Girard College, I herewith furnish replies to interrogatories respecting Lambert Goldsmith, the lad apprenticed to me by said College.

He has applied himself diligently, deported himself satisfactorily, and made good progress; has not absented himself without permission, and as far as I know, makes good use of his leisure hours, as he does not reside with me, his mother having charge of him after business hours. I cannot give any further information, but fully believe him to be a lad of good principles; in short, he is a well-disposed boy, and I have no complaint against him.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

SOLOMON GANS,
per M. HERON.

[From T. MORRIS PEROT & Co., Wholesale Druggists, Phila.]

Philadelphia, January 3, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In answer to your favor of the 20th ult., we will reply as follows: John W. Moore has now been with us over four years, and it is with pleasure we report favorably to all the inquiries made by you concerning him. He studies the interest of his employers, is never idle, and we have no hesitation, when called away unexpectedly, of entrusting our affairs to his keeping. His faults are gradually, but surely being overcome, and we hope to be able to report at the close of his apprenticeship—"Well done thou good and faithful steward."

Yours truly,
T. M. PEROT & CO.
621 Market street.

[From T. Morris Perot & Co., Wholesale Druggists, Phila.]

Dear Sir:—Our report this year in regard to Joseph R. Houston and Daniel O. C. Hunter is a favorable one; they are generally diligent, civil, and obedient. We believe their time is spent profitably when absent from our employment. With rather more application and attention to business we should be pleased.

Yours truly,
T. M. PEROT & CO.

[From J. W. Cottrell, Merchant, Columbia.]

Columbia, January 17, 1861.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of inquiry is received. In answer, I would state that Donnelly applies himself diligently to business—is civil, faithful, and obedient, and is making tolerable progress in business.

He has never been absent from my employment. His hours, when not engaged in business, are spent in reading. His associates, so far, are good. He resides in my family and submits to the discipline of my home. He attends public worship and sabbath school regularly. He is correct in his morals, tolerably cleanly in person, orderly in his habits, and his general behavior good.

Very respectfully yours, etc.,
J. W. COTTRELL.

[From Canby & Brothers, Plumbers, Philadelphia.]

321 Arch street, 1 mo. 1*st*, 1861.

Dear Sir:—We are enabled to reply satisfactorily to all the within questions in regard to our two Girard College boys. They do not reside in our families, but we believe their general behavior is good.

Very respectfully,
CANBY & BROTHERS.

[From JACOB PARRY, Farmer, Delaware county.]

Ridley, January 16, 1861.

DEAR SIR :—I duly received yours of the 20th December, on the first of January. In answer to the questions, I can state that my apprentice, R. Ruddock, applies himself diligently to his occupation,—is civil and obedient, and has made as much progress as was reasonable to expect. He has never been absent from my employment, at any time, without my consent. His time, when not occupied with me, he spends with some few comrades in the neighborhood, of whom I generally approve.

He resides in my family, submits to my rules generally, keeps tolerably good hours, attends public worship, and so far as my knowledge extends he is correct in morals, tolerably cleanly in person, and his behavior such as I can generally approve.

Respectfully yours,

JACOB PARRY.

[From ELI HOLDEN, Clock and Watch Maker, Market street.]

Philadelphia, January 15, 1861.

DEAR SIR :—In answer to your inquiries, I assure you it affords me much pleasure in being able to render a favorable account of the two boys now under my charge ; B. F. Keyser, the third young man from your Institution, is very attentive to business, and is making good progress. I place the most implicit confidence in him. John Toft, the fourth boy, thus far has rendered entire satisfaction.

Respectfully,

ELI HOLDEN,
708 Market street.

[From JOS. KEMP, Surveyor, &c., Hollidaysburg.]

DEAR SIR :—John Dougherty and Arthur C. Gilbert are in my family as apprentices, and in answer to the first question, I have to say, that they both make reasonable progress, and though not altogether unobjectionable in some respects, yet their conduct is better that most boys of their age.

Neither of them absented themselves contrary to orders.

Generally at home, or at the young men's Lyceum or Institute, in the evening. I am not aware of any evil associations.

They both reside in my family. Their conduct and deportment is generally good—cleanly in habits. Their habits and morality are far in advance of most of the young men, who are blessed with parents after the flesh, in our community.

Yours truly,

JOS. KEMP.

[From Dr. C. N. Harry, Dentist, Philadelphia.]

Norristown, January 3, 1861.

Dear Sir:—I received your letter a few days ago, making certain inquiries about the lad, Jacob B. Jackson, I obtained from your Institution.

I believe he does apply himself diligently to his occupation, and is faithful and obedient. His progress is very creditable indeed. He has at no time absented himself, except by permission.

His hours, when not engaged, are generally profitably employed.

He resides with my family, and conforms to the discipline of my household; keeps good hours; correct in his morals; cleanly in his person; orderly in his habits; general behavior is good. I have no complaint to make, but I am much pleased with him.

Yours respectfully,
C. N. HARRY.

[From R. Buist, Horticulturist, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, January 12, 1861.

Dear Sir:—In reply to yours of the 20th ult., I beg to say that Jas. La Serre applies himself very diligently to his business. He is very civil, and faithful to all his duties, and making very excellent progress in his business. He is never absent from duty without leave. Since the death of his mother he boards with his aunt. He attends public worship at Arch Street Presbyterian Church. We highly approve of his conduct.

Very truly,
R. BUIST.

[From R. Buist, Horticulturist, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, January 20, 1861.

Dear Sir:—In reply to yours of the 20th ult., I beg to say that Andrew McIlravy is diligent in his business, civil, and faithful in all his duties, and making some progress in his profession. He is never absent from duty without leave. His leisure hours are spent generally in reading books from his employer's library. He resides on the premises, and submits to the discipline of the place.

He attends public worship with his employer, at the Episcopal Church. We have entirely approved of his behavior, and believe that he will prove to be a very exemplary young man.

Very respectfully,

R. BUIST.

[From A. ROBB, Farmer, Chester County.]

Chester Valley, January 10, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to your inquiry concerning Henry Henderson, I may say that he applies himself to business, is civil, faithful, and obedient, and has made reasonable progress in his profession. He is never absent from my employment except by permission. His leisure hours are generally spent in reading. He has few associates out of my family. He attends church. To the best of my knowledge, correct in his morals. He is not so cleanly in his person as I would desire, but I hope time and experience will correct this fault. He is, with this exception, all I could expect in a boy.

Yours, &c.,

A. ROBB.

[From THOMAS G. BERING, Carver, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, January 12, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—It affords me much pleasure in answering your note in regard to my brother, W. H. Bering. He applies himself diligently to his occupation, is civil, obedient, &c., and has made as rapid progress as I could expect of him in so short a time. He has never absented himself without my consent. His leisure hours are spent in reading and drawing, in the latter of which he greatly excels most boys of his age. He resides with his sister, attends public worship, is correct in his morals, &c.

Respectfully yours,

THOMAS G. BERING.

[From HENRY BARTON, Farmer, Lancaster County.]

Upper Leacock, January 7, 1861.

SIR:—In answer to your inquiries in regard to the College lads in my employ, I have only to reiterate what I have before written. Each passing year finds them as faithful as the last.

They both make as rapid progress in their profession as can be expected. They never absent themselves from my service without permission, and conform cheerfully to the discipline of the household, of which they are members.

Their leisure hours are chiefly devoted to reading. They attend public worship, and, to the best of my knowledge, are correct in their morals. They are civil and obedient, and their general behavior all I could desire.

Wm. Ebert's time will expire in November next, at which time I will avail myself of an opportunity to secure another lad from your excellent Institution.

Yours respectfully,
HENRY BARTON.

[From B. EWAN, Druggist, Chestnut Hill.]

Chestnut Hill, Pa., Jan. 5, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In answer to your usual inquiries, I would state that my apprentice, Wm. S. Everton, still conducts himself very satisfactorily. He is orderly, civil, and obedient. He has never been absent except by permission; attends public worship and Bible class, and his general conduct is such as I approve.

Yours respectfully,
B. EWAN.

[From P. S. DECHERT, Printer, Chambersburg.]

VALLEY SPIRIT OFFICE,
Chambersburg., Pa., January 25, 1861.

MY DEAR SIR:—I have really neglected answering your letter of inquiry too long, and now hasten to make amends.

John L. Gink is doing well, conducts himself properly, and will bring no disgrace upon the Institution that has placed him under my care.

Respectfully yours,
P. S. DECHERT.

[From WM. M. REILLY, Druggist, Philadelphia.]

Philadelphia, January, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to your usual circular, I desire to say that John Givens applies himself ardently to his business, is thoroughly reliable and obedient, and is making a commendable progress in his profession.

Faithfully yours,

WM. M. REILLY.

[From GEORGE BAIN, Farmer, Willow Grove.]

ABINGTON TOWNSHIP,
Montgomery County, Pa., Jan. 8, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to your favor of 20th ult., I have to say that Adam R. Patton, at this writing, is in all respects worthy of my greatest praise. His conduct, in every particular, is to my wishes. His willingness, as well as his ability to perform his allotted duties, are highly commendable, and the progress he is making meets my most sanguine hopes.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE BAIN.

[From E. C. FLOCK, Farmer.]

December 15, 1860.

DEAR SIR:—I beg to answer in regard to the apprentice, Geo. W. Jones, bound to me, as follows:

1st. He has applied himself to his occupation, and also made as much progress as could reasonably be expected of him.

2d. His hours have been properly spent.

3d. He has never deserted or been absent from my employment.

4th. His companions are such as I approve of.

5th. He submits to the discipline of the family, keeps good hours, and attends public worship, and is correct in his morals generally, clean in his habits, and his general behavior such as I approve of.

Your humble servant,

E. C. FLOCK.

[From ROBERT SIMPSON, Shoemaker, Philadelphia.]

January 2, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—In answer to your letter of the 20th ult., I will state that Joseph Donahue has applied himself diligently to his occupation, and has made very good progress for the time he has been with me. His associates, as far as I can see, are good; he will be a very neat workman; he stops in my house, and is very well liked; he attends public worship pretty regular, and I am very well satisfied with him.

Yours truly,

ROBERT SIMPSON.

[From JNO. H. BUSHONG, Miller, Lancaster County.]

Upper Leacock, January 3, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—To your questions I will answer, Wm. R. Reger is diligent, civil, faithful, and obedient; has made as good progress as could be expected; never been absent; his hours are good, generally spent in reading; his companions as good as can be expected. He resides in my family; he submits to the discipline of our household; keeps good hours; attends public worship occasionally; he is correct in his morals, cleanly in his person, and orderly in his habits. His general behavior is good. I think he tries to learn as much as possible.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN H. BUSHONG.
